Through the tour/hunt, I have realised that the students that I led was not aware of the majority of the locations or how to use the service that is provided by a certain place, so I think it has been very helpful for them? I tried my best to explain each utility and their availabilities to the students

I think we should have had a better social before our groups went of onto the treasure hunt, it felt like it was difficult to have convos whilst walking and felt like questions and names and introductions could have had more time.

Anything else you'd like to share?

It felt as though lots of consideration and thoughtfulness went into the treasure hunt in particular
